

From: Condo Business <mail@smtp12.com>

Date: April 23, 2015 at 12:21:27 PM EDT

To: <danielle@kimgraham.ca>

Subject: East United project embraces eclectic locale; Why radon testing should be on your radar

Reply-To: Condo Business <subservices@mediaedge.ca>

To view this email as a web page, go here.

Sign Up | Archives

April 23, 2015

THE ALL NEW
YARDI Genesis²TM
You wear every hat.
Now your software can, too.

Learn More

E-News
CONDOBUSINESS
Canada's Most Widely Read Condominium Magazine

Gallery Collection
Distinctive Corridor Carpet designed by

VIFLOOR
STAND CONFIDENTLY

East United project embraces eclectic locale

A new condo development called East United will bridge than more just the block it occupies. It will bridge the eclectic influences of the surrounding Design and Distillery districts and St. Lawrence Market neighbourhood by combining new, heritage and industrial elements in a five-storey podium, 21-storey tower and six townhouses.

Read More »

Uplifting Designs,
Custom Installation

With the help of a
CARMA UTILITY MONITORING SYSTEM
our clients have seen
SAVINGS OF 15 TO 25%

LEARN MORE TODAY

Harold S. Cipin
M.Sc., Hon. S.A., RCM
President
Times Property Management

CARMA
submetering and billing solutions
www.carmaindustries.com

GTA condo apartment sales rose in first quarter